

Simon Brilliant

Simon is a well established practitioner in a range of real property and landlord and tenant matters. He specialises in litigation and related advisory work, and undertakes both commercial and residential cases. He has considerable experience of both oral and written advocacy. He sits as a specialist tribunal judge dealing with both land registration and residential property disputes.

He is an accredited mediator, and has been described by experienced counsel as “An unflappable mediator, who really does go the extra mile. He kept us all on track, and cracked a dispute that I was convinced was destined for court.”

Recent Cases:

Simon has recently obtained:

- an order determining the boundary on a substantial Grade I listed Cotswold estate in a position substantially different to that shown on the registered title plans.
- a satisfactory settlement for a family property company against a major housebuilder where he was able to put forward a powerful argument that the housebuilder's notice purporting to exercise an option on a £3.5M plot was bad in law.
- an order for rectification of a commercial under-lease which failed to mirror certain terms of the head lease, where he was able to show the parties had intended otherwise. The application had been strenuously opposed by the landlord seeking to obtain commercial advantage from the discrepancy.
